

We will review the Equivariant Chow Theory of Totaro and Edidin-Graham, and suggest how to naturally extend it to other (non-necessarily orientable) cycle modules. Using this tools we will outline a strategy for computing the Chow-Witt ring of the moduli stacks of elliptic curves and its stable compactification.